Description

Three storey, (with fourth storey within mansard roof), four-bay, mid terrace building set at the back edge of the pavement. White painted red brick façade, rendered mouldings, natural slate mansard roof. At mansard roof level, on the half of the elevation to left-hand side is a gable of two bays, topped with ball finial. On the right-hand half of the building, a balustrade remains with dormer window behind. 3 No. double-height rendered pilasters running from first floor to second, with composite capitals, supporting a deep projecting cornice course with moulded brackets. All topped with ball finials. Windows mainly one-over-one vertical sliding sash painted timber windows, pane size all unequal at first floor, and all equal at second floor. 2no. paired, six-over-one arch headed windows within gable. All windows at first floor with small pediments; first floor left side contains canted projecting bay window with casements. At ground floor, plain pilasters with paired console brackets supporting cornice. Swan-neck pediments to either side of modern shopfront with separate entrance to side, plastic signage and external metal roller shutter.

History

Date stone on building '1765-1903'. Archive photographs attached show this building c.1890 and c.1905 and illustrate changes in that period. Parts of the building could date from the mid 18th century onwards.

Description

Two-bay façade onto Ferryquay Street, five-bay façade to Pump Street, three-and-a-half storey, corner property set at the back edge of the pavement. Double pitched slate roof set at right angles to Ferryquay Street. Painted, smooth rendered façade. Window openings all square headed; all regularly spaced; all with plain moulded surround; with the exception of a single window opening within gable at high level at third floor which has no keystone motif and is round headed. One-over-one, vertical sliding painted timber sash windows throughout. Contemporary shopfront, fascia sign and external roller shutters. Splayed corner entrance to shop. The gabled form suggests late-18th century form and origins. Much altered. Absence of original fabric. Pump Street elevation to left in photograph.

Description

Five-bay, three-storey, mid-terrace property set at the back edge of the pavement. Double pitched slate roof. Painted, smooth rendered façade. Square headed windows throughout. Large picture window at first floor, in central position. Windows generally one-over-one plastic coated aluminium. Four plain triple height 'pilasters'. String course at top of ground floor but below first floor window sills and string course at second floor sill level. Ground floor, plain contemporary shopfront, external roller shutters.

History

Previously, two properties which came under single ownership circa 1880. The 1899 valuation map indicates that the building on the site at that time was occupied by Alex McCay & Co. Ltd, Grocers & Provisions, with carriage arch to the right-hand side of the building. During the late 20th century the site was re-developed with a two-storey, flat roofed building set at the back edge of the pavement, with windowless profiled metal cladding above contemporary shopfront and signage. Site re-developed again circa 2008, including refurbishment and alterations to nos. 6-8 Pump Street.

Description

Three-storey, two-bay, with three-bay to Market Street, corner property on Ferryquay St, and Market St, set at the back edge of pavement. (See also the F5 map reference: No.15A Ferryquay St., on corner of Pump Street). Double-pitched, natural slate hipped roof with terracotta hip tiles. Roof pitches currently equal pitch. Rendered chimney over the ridge, not centrally positioned, and located on the gable end adjoining the property next door in Market Street. Painted, smooth rendered façade. Ground floor has plain pilasters on plinths and with ionic capitals. These are set either side of the building's elevation onto Ferryquay Street, and either side of main entrance (off Market Street). The Ferryquay Street elevation has a wide and slightly bowed, multi-paned, window and skirting set between the pilasters and, rising onto the lower part of first floor, two mountings above pilasters, finishing in mini-pediments, swan-neck in form. The entrance, on Market St, is broken pediment, swan's neck in form. Continuous painted fascia and cornice to street frontages. At first floor, six-over-one, top-hung painted timber replacement casement windows, one-over-one casements at second floor. Externally mounted roller shutters. Moulded anchor sign between the two first floor windows on Ferryquay St.
